Chad Lingenfelter at Cumberland Lake

July 13th and we are at Guist Creek in Shelbyville, Ky. It is a small lake with lots of big fish, but sometimes when the weather is very hot, the fish just seem to vanish. We had a great turnout but not a lot of fish were caught. One important thing I personally learned at Guist Creek was if you fish with Bobby, keep an extra pack of Red Man in your boat. If he should happen to run out you are fishing with a wild man.

The winners were: 1st place- Bobby Brinegar and Harold Rhodus. 2nd place- Bob Walker and R.T. Hearld. 3rd place- Philip Brinegar and Claude Cobb. The Big Fish was caught by R. T. Hearld.

August 4th and it is our last tournament on Herrington Lake. This one is a little different, another night tournament but going out of Bryant's Fishing Camp on the opposite end of the lake from where we usually launch from. It is hot, 80 degrees at night and the water temperature is almost 90 degrees. The lake is down several feet because of a lack of rain. Bad conditions just excite us. Anyone can catch fish when the conditions are perfect.

Morgan's Meanderings

By Terry Morgan

I'm sure you have probably seen it at least one time in your life. A good man (or woman) gone bad. This unfortunate happenstance can happen in many different ways but is normally associated with money, job, intemperance in the use of intoxicants, smoke, intimate indiscretions, snobbery, and many other mental and emotional anxieties. But the absolute worst scenario that I can imagine evolves around the person who is pretty good at one sport and then suddenly tries to switch to another sport with the hope that he (or she) can carry with them the superiority they have built in the first sport, over to the second sport. It is a horror to watch them demeaning themselves with excuses for their pitiful attempts to succeed; and then- abject failure.

I put forward this premise to you because I think we are on the verge of seeing this scene played out at our beautiful League grounds. Now I am certainly not speaking of myself here because I was never any good at any of the sports so I can shape shift from one to the other without causing a ripple in the ethereal continuum and no one would ever notice. I have had some experience with notoriety in the past but that has been assuaged by the passage of time. Despite the "wanted" poster shown, I am not being pursued by either the law or Hollywood.

I draw your attention to a specific situation I see that has the potential to bring unwanted societal effects to the aura of one of our leading volunteers. Volunteerism can be one of the channels of the above mentioned degradation because it takes priority over self. Just imagine yourself as a leader in your favorite sport and then imagine yourself as being overcome with the need to volunteer to fulfill a perceived void in a world you feel close to. Also imagine that that void happens to be in an area of sports that you are not normally considered part of. I hope you can see quite well how this determination to fill that void could be jeopardizing to your ego, mental health and prestige. (This has a lot to do with why we have trouble getting members to try out the different venues at BGSL – they are afraid of the results they imagine they will suffer). At the same time that I am warning you of this impending disaster, I am asking you to help stave off this potential harm to a volunteer who is risking home and sanity by once again prostrating himself on the altar and exposing himself to abuse and derision (this would be happening in his own mind- not anywhere else). You can furnish this help by applauding his efforts; saying thanks for the effort expended and maybe even go so far as to volunteer yourself someday.

I meandered over to the rifle range the other day and from by truck I saw some papers hanging on one of the posts so my natural nosiness led me to get out and get closer. Here is what I saw: NOW! That's what I'm talkin' about!

Take the Challenge, it said. Do you think I could stand there and not take the Challenge? No sirree Bob, old buddy. I am not showing you those .22 magnum bullet holes as an example of precision marksmanship but I am showing you that even an old "___" (you fill in the favorite phrase of choice) like me who cannot see the front and back sights and the target at the same time can do pretty good if he has been taught well in his youth. This is 25 yards standing with iron sights and a lever action Marlin without sighting in the gun. The real problem here is that our "volunteer" who is issuing this challenge is most noted for being a "pistolero" or "pistol guy" and is even a director for the pistol division. He is the same Clay Caudill of the phrase "We Shoot Slow and Make One Hole" even though he very seldom participates in Bullseye shooting. Now I hope you can see why I am so concerned about his welfare. For a Pistol Guy to volunteer for this Applesseed duty and risk becoming known as a rifle person rather than his chosen sport of love takes a big man. It takes a man imbued with the "volunteer" gene.

Now what I would like to propose is that each one of you visit the club grounds and find one of these 8 1/2 x 11" sheets with

Riflemen Wanted! Take the Challenge

Can you put 10 shots on the targets below with iron sights from a bench or standing?

Try It! - NO SCOPE

If you can't, come to the Applesseed rifle clinic here at BGSL on October 6th and 7th and learn how.

the target on it and take the challenge. Here is an opportunity to find out if you can cut the mustard and an opportunity to promote and support some of the basics that we are always harping about and all that will in turn help programs like the Applesseed endeavor and also help upgrade the level of competence and safety in our entire club organization. You will notice that Clay uses some pretty strong language in his document. "Are you a Cook or a Rifleman?" Whoa!! That almost looks like a slap in the face. I hope each one of the Kitchen Division members snags one of these posters and shows brother Caudill that a cook can also shoot. (Ok! Ok! So there are only 9 bullet holes in the target above. Can I help it that I am too cheap to go buy another bullet??)

OPEN LETTER TO MEMBERSHIP

At the last general membership meeting a Constitutional Amendment which would have enabled the Board of Directors to meet its fiduciary duty was defeated. As a result, the fiscal deficit we are experiencing has become a runaway train. In short, we are bleeding to death with no help in sight.

This dire situation was made known to the membership in an article published in these pages by member Sam Brown several months ago. Mr. Brown, a CPA and principal in a large, local accounting firm, conducted an independent audit of club finances and found that we are spending 20-30% more annually than we take in through dues and other fee structures, and have been doing so for several years.

How is this possible? It is because we have been robbing Peter to pay Paul. We have balanced our budget by taking a depreciation allowance on our physical assets on paper, but have failed to fund the depreciation account.

This situation hit home in a big way during the past year. For example, the stat shack at the Pistol Division had to be rebuilt from monies that were not budgeted.

In addition, EPA lead remediation rules required us to rebuild virtually every shooting berm on club property. Berms had to be dug up and sifted for lead. The lead then had to be disposed of as a hazardous material. Even the sifted soil had to be disposed of or put in the center of the new berms. All this work was unbudgeted and unfunded.

Our two large tractors and one small mower completely broke down (again) from overuse and lack of repair. Once again, the depreciation account which should have paid these expenses was bare.

We, as a club, can no longer operate through deficit spending. The chickens have come home to roost.

The Board does not set the budget. That is a function of the officers of the Divisions and the League with the assistance of the Directors-at-Large. Neither does the Board have the authority to assess dues sufficient to meet the needs reflected in your budget. That is a function of the general membership. And therein lies the rub. The Board is tasked with implementing your budget without the authority to finance it.

The defeated Constitutional Amendment would have permitted a 2/3 majority of the Board to unilaterally raise the dues no more than 50% to put our fiscal house in order. President Delabar and the Officers and Directors conducted two educational seminars to bring these problems to your attention. One was conducted at a regular membership meeting and the other on a Saturday for those who could not attend the first. Yet, at the last membership meeting where this authority was voted down, there were members who had not attended any seminars but who showed up expressly to vote against it. One member even stated that he was voting against it because he didn't understand club finances. This member didn't attend the educational meetings, but did make the effort to come out and cast a vote without understanding the consequences. How responsible is that?

There are solutions, but they must be taken quickly.

We can cut services: hours of operation; the meal at the membership meeting; range improvements; and, amenities that make our club among the finest in the country.

We can impose our guest pass fee on non-members at "open" events. We have several such "open" events each week where non-members regularly constitute 40% of participants, yet pay only a nominal fee to the sponsoring Division.

This is wrong. Non-BGSL members should pay a flat guest fee to the LEAGUE each time they use our facilities. Such a policy would be a giant step toward fiscal soundness.

Finally, we need a dues increase. At present each family pays about $10 per month to enjoy all the benefits of our world class club. Would an increase to $15 per month break the family budget? How much do you pay for a single round of trap or sporting clays? How much do you pay for ammunition and fees every time you participate in a pistol event. What is your club worth to you?

September marks our annual election of Officers and Directors. Please take the opportunity to participate either as a candidate or in support of candidates who will steer our club back down the road to financial responsibility.

Respectfully submitted,

Steve Cox

20 year member-Director Airgun Division

DON'T FORGET

Starting in September, the General Membership Meeting begins at 7:00 p.m.

The meeting is still on the first Tuesday of every month.

See you on September 4th and as our friend Dennis West says "there is no CLUB without U."

David Roberts made the All American Team by scoring in the top 5 in Accuracy Plugs.

Bill Burke made the All American Team by scoring in the top 5 in Accuracy Flies.

David Roberts also received a 25 year attendance award, while Bill Burke received a 35 year attendance award – way to represent us guys!

We all had a great time even though the average temperature of 95. Our banquet, held at the Houston Inn, was one of the best. We ate too much, laughed too much and had such a good time it seemed sinful.

The BGS� will also be represented at the Senior World Championships by Bill Burke the week of August 15th. Hope to have good news from that tourney in the next bulletin.

The last tournament of the year – The All American – in Chicago, IL is scheduled for September 8th & 9th. We hope to take a few awards there too.

If you see any of our casters around the club, give them a pat-on-the-back or a high-five, they have represented us well this year.

Training at BGS�

The training committee has been hard at work developing a Training Program at BGS� and is pleased to announce the classes listed below. Any suggestions for future classes are encouraged. The training committee would like to compile a list of instructors, so please contact us if you are interesting in holding classes or workshops at BGS�.

The following classes are scheduled at BGS�. Pre-registration is required and class size is limited. Sign up today!

Concealed Carry Deadly Weapons Classes

September 8th 9am-4pm. Cost is $65.00 for BGS� members.

NRA Range Safety Officer Class

September 1st 8am-6pm. Cost is $65.00 for BGS� members. This class is designed to educate the student on firing range management with a strong emphasis on safety. This will allow our members to help ensure the safety of our ranges and promote a safe and enjoyable shooting experience for all of our members and guests.

NRA Basic Pistol Classes

October 13th and November 10th 8am-6pm. Cost is $65.00 for BGS� members. This class is designed for the novice shooter to teach the basics of handgun safety and function as well as the principles of basic marksmanship. This is great for first time handgun owners or those with limited shooting experience.

Contact Brandon Ironmonger to register for classes or with suggestions. BGFI@adelphia.net or 859-879-6997 before 9pm.

BGS�INC.COM

Don't forget to check out the new and improved BGS� website. Richard Gehlbeck and Clay Caudill have been working hard to make our website informative, dynamic, user friendly and current. Workshops were held in August for members who are maintaining the website content for their divisions.

The best way to thank Richard and Clay for all their hard work is to use the site and participate.

Airgun Division

The Airgun Division is pleased to announce that our annual nationwide match, The Bluegrass 100, will take place September 7-9 at the Division range.

This match is of particular importance as it is the last major competition prior to the World Field Target Championship which will be held in the US for the first time in seven years. It is also the final event of the 2007 Southern Gran Prix series of tournaments and trophies will be awarded to those with the highest cumulative scores for the year.

If you have ever wanted to see what serious airgun competition is all about, please plan to join us for a day or all weekend.

Steve Cox – Director, Airgun Division

The Appleseed Rifle Clinic

is about learning the fundamentals of rifle marksmanship. You will learn how to make sight adjustments and the proper use of a sling. To add some context and illustrate how important basic rifle skills can be, the training is done against the backdrop of the Rifleman in the Revolutionary War. Are you as good as they were, or are you the cook that keeps them fed?

The best suited rifles are ones with easily adjustable iron sights, magazine fed, semi-autos, but you can get lots out of the class with a bolt action 22lr or your deer rifle. Bring what you have! The cost is $45 for 1 day, $70 for 2 days, plus 200 – 250 rounds per day. The dates are October 6 & 7. ## Blue Grass Sportsmen's League

From the BGS� Chaplain

I have finally figured out why I like attending club meetings as much as I do. You see, it all started after the Revolutionary War. The Founding Fathers knew we didn't need the new country to be another monarchy, but there weren't any other forms of government around to use as a model. However, the Presbyterian Church was well established in the Colonies and it had an interesting form of government; it was essentially a representative democracy.

The Lansdowne Church, where I am pastor, is a Cumberland Presbyterian congregation. Presbyterian congregations elect Elders to conduct the business and life of the church. The Elders form a Session which is moderated by the pastor. Congregations are grouped together to form Presbyteries. Presbyteries in turn make up Synods, and the highest level of authority is the General Assembly. Sounds a lot like American Government, doesn't it? It is: the representative form of democracy we enjoy in this country was inspired by the Presbyterian Church. You're welcome.

BGS� operates the same way. We elect officers and directors to the governing of the club. It all feels very familiar to me. I know how it works. I am also familiar with how organizations operate that are made up of mostly volunteers. Except for myself, my associate minister, our pianist, and our bookkeeper, like most churches, Lansdowne Church is made up of people who do the work because they share common interests and beliefs, not because they are paid to do so. This is also true of BGS�. Getting large amounts of difficult work done with mostly volunteers has its own set of problems. Not everyone has the same level of commitment. It can be said of such groups, "20 percent of the members do 80 percent of the work." If that formula is right, and I believe it is very close, just imagine what could be done if we could increase that 20 percent of dedicated workers to 23 or 25 percent. In which group are you?

I do understand the process of the club; I am comfortable with it and have a great deal of compassion and caring for the people involved in it. I want to see it flourish and be around for my grandchildren and their children's children to enjoy.

As for why I love the meetings so much; actually, that is quite simple: I get to sit in the back! Now, maybe I will understand why so many others are drawn to sitting there. See you at the club.

Blessings,
Tom

We had another great turnout with 25 fisherman. The excitement is high at the ramp. The points race is close, and there are a couple of individual challenges going on within the club. Philip seems to think that he can tame a shark, but sharks are wild and they will eventually bite. Bobby and Harold keep looking back to see who is catching up in the points race. Maybe they should be watching each other.

There was a lot of planning and strategy involved in this one and the winners were Philip Brinegar and Claude Cobb. Second place went to Freddie Becknell and Kevin Teeter. Third was Bobby Brinegar and Harold Rhodus. The Big Fish was caught by Philip Brinegar. Are you beginning to see a pattern here ?

Again, Philip takes the Shark, but the real question is, is Philip really winning, or is he being sucked into a trip ? You never know with a Shark.

The Bass Division had two members to qualify to fish in The Kentucky Bass Federation State Championship in October. Good luck to Mike Tester and John Lingenfelter.

If you would like to get in on the fun, just call anyone in the Bass Division to get started.
